Project about: Central A...

Hello,

we are 4 students from the Public University of Navarre (Spain), studying the course of Primary Education, that are creating an instructional module and didactic materials for children in a school near a biosphere reserve.

The biosphere reserve chosen it is the one near your university, the Federal University of Amazonas (UFAM), it is called the Central Amazon Conservation Complex (CAC), and as you will probably know it is a protected area which covers approximately 6 million hectares and is considered to be on of the largest and most diverse areas of the world. This reserve is also recognised as a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve.

As we didn't find a school near the biosphere reserve chosen to share our project with, we decided to find an educational center and your university was the nearest.

As mentioned before, we are creating didactic materials for children in schools near this biosphere reserve, we are designing activities, methodologies, objectives... so if you're interested in our project we can send it so you can take a look.

Thank you.
